Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Allen:

I am delighted to possess, through your thoughtful generosity, the trowel which I used to help in the laying of the cornerstone of the new building of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Camilla and I are going to set up in our home a room which will provide a setting for a number of reminders of our service in Washington. This trowel will have a place of honor in that room.

Camilla and I send our best to Clover and to you.

Sincerely,

Neil
